

INFORMED ON REFORM

KEEPING YOU UP-TO-DATE ON THE PPACA

Under the Affordable Care Act (ACA), Cigna must report to the IRS all individuals covered under your insured medical plan during the prior calendar year, i.e., “minimum essential coverage” (MEC) reporting.

Cigna gathers the data necessary to report whether individuals had coverage in the prior calendar year from a variety of sources, mainly through the enrollment process and our clients eligibility reports.

This letter will be sent to our insured clients with under 250 employees* to help ensure data accuracy between our clients and Cigna. We’re also taking advantage of this communication to remind our clients of their IRS filing requirements as well as when their employees might hear from Cigna should we not receive Social Security Number (SSN) data during the enrollment process.

If you have any questions about these requirements or this communication, please contact your Cigna sales representative.

Thank you

* Larger size insured clients will receive this information from their sales representative. Please contact your Cigna sales rep if you would like to discuss.

Together, all the way.®
