

Introducing engage2Health

a new Health Advocate company dedicated to providing health informatics solutions to support employers and their employees in achieving improved health outcomes and lower health care costs

Due to positive responses from our valued partners, Health Advocate is pleased to offer two additional webinars, inviting you to learn about our new informatics company, engage2Health presented by Dr. Abbie Leibowitz. The engage2Health team, headed by Dr. Antonio Legorreta, has significant experience in developing real-world outcome research, improving quality care metrics and providing other cost effective analysis that can benefit your clients with improved health outcomes and lower healthcare costs.

engage2Health will be hosting two free one-hour webinars on Wednesday, February 8th at 1pm and 3pm EST.

To register, click on one of the times below:

- Session One: 1 PM EST
- Session Two: 3 PM EST

About the engage2Health Team

Abbie Leibowitz, M.D.

Dr. Leibowitz is Cofounder, Chief Medical Officer and EVP of Health Advocate, Inc. He is a nationally recognized authority on managed care, clinical management, quality assurance and medical data information systems.

Antonio Legorreta, M.D., MPH

Dr. Antonio Legorreta is the president of Health Advocate's new health informatics company, engage2health, located in West Lake, California. Dr. Legorreta is a leading authority on the development of outcomes research and measurements, and other quality report cards of managed healthcare plans.

We look forward to you joining us and learning how this new solution can assist your clients with lowering healthcare costs and improving health outcomes. If you have any questions or difficulty registering, please contact us using the information below.